One Stitch Ahead

Dear Readers,

Of all of the months in the year, I think May might just be one of my favorites. It's not too hot, and it's not too cold. It's a busy time, but the time is filled with events that commemorate life's milestones. From graduations to weddings, baby showers to family vacations, there is always something to celebrate. Plus, the weather is usually glorious! I want to be outside all the time. How about you? Does summer mean outside for you?

This issue is filled to the brim with projects for all of summer's events, including an adorable baby announcement, Owl Always Love You, on page 45, a modern, colorful wedding sampler on page 38 and an elegant anniversary project that celebrates the milestone years. Plus, honor Mom with a simple Mother and Child design on page 48 and liven up Dad's study with the unique Soaring Airplanes afghan on page 50. For those wanting a showstopping beauty, De Selby's Butterfly Box is a study in shading and color, while the Seville pillow on page 12 is a project that uses Assisi-style techniques in a sunshine yellow. For those stitchers wanting to expand their specialty-stitch repertoire, the Hardanger Card Duo on page 68 offers the perfect option for learning cutwork and Hardanger techniques. And if you're looking for quick-to-stitch projects, there is no shortage of those in this issue either. The Fern Frond Bookmark on page 10 will go from stitching basket to finished project in no time.

I wish you a summer full of sunshine and a plethora of stitches plied. Don't forget to take time out of your busy schedule to celebrate life with friends and family. As always, I look forward to hearing from you and to hearing what kinds of designs you want to see in upcoming issues. Please take a minute to email me at Editor@Just-CrossStitch.com to let me know your thoughts and suggestions.

Happy stitching!

Finishing Materials & Instructions

1 yard coordinating decorator fabric

1½ yards 6/32 cotton cording

Coordinating sewing thread

Polyester fiberfill

Hand-sewing needle

Sewing machine with zipper-foot attachment (optional)

Press stitched piece from reverse side, straightening as much as possible. Trim stitched piece to ½" from stitching on all sides.

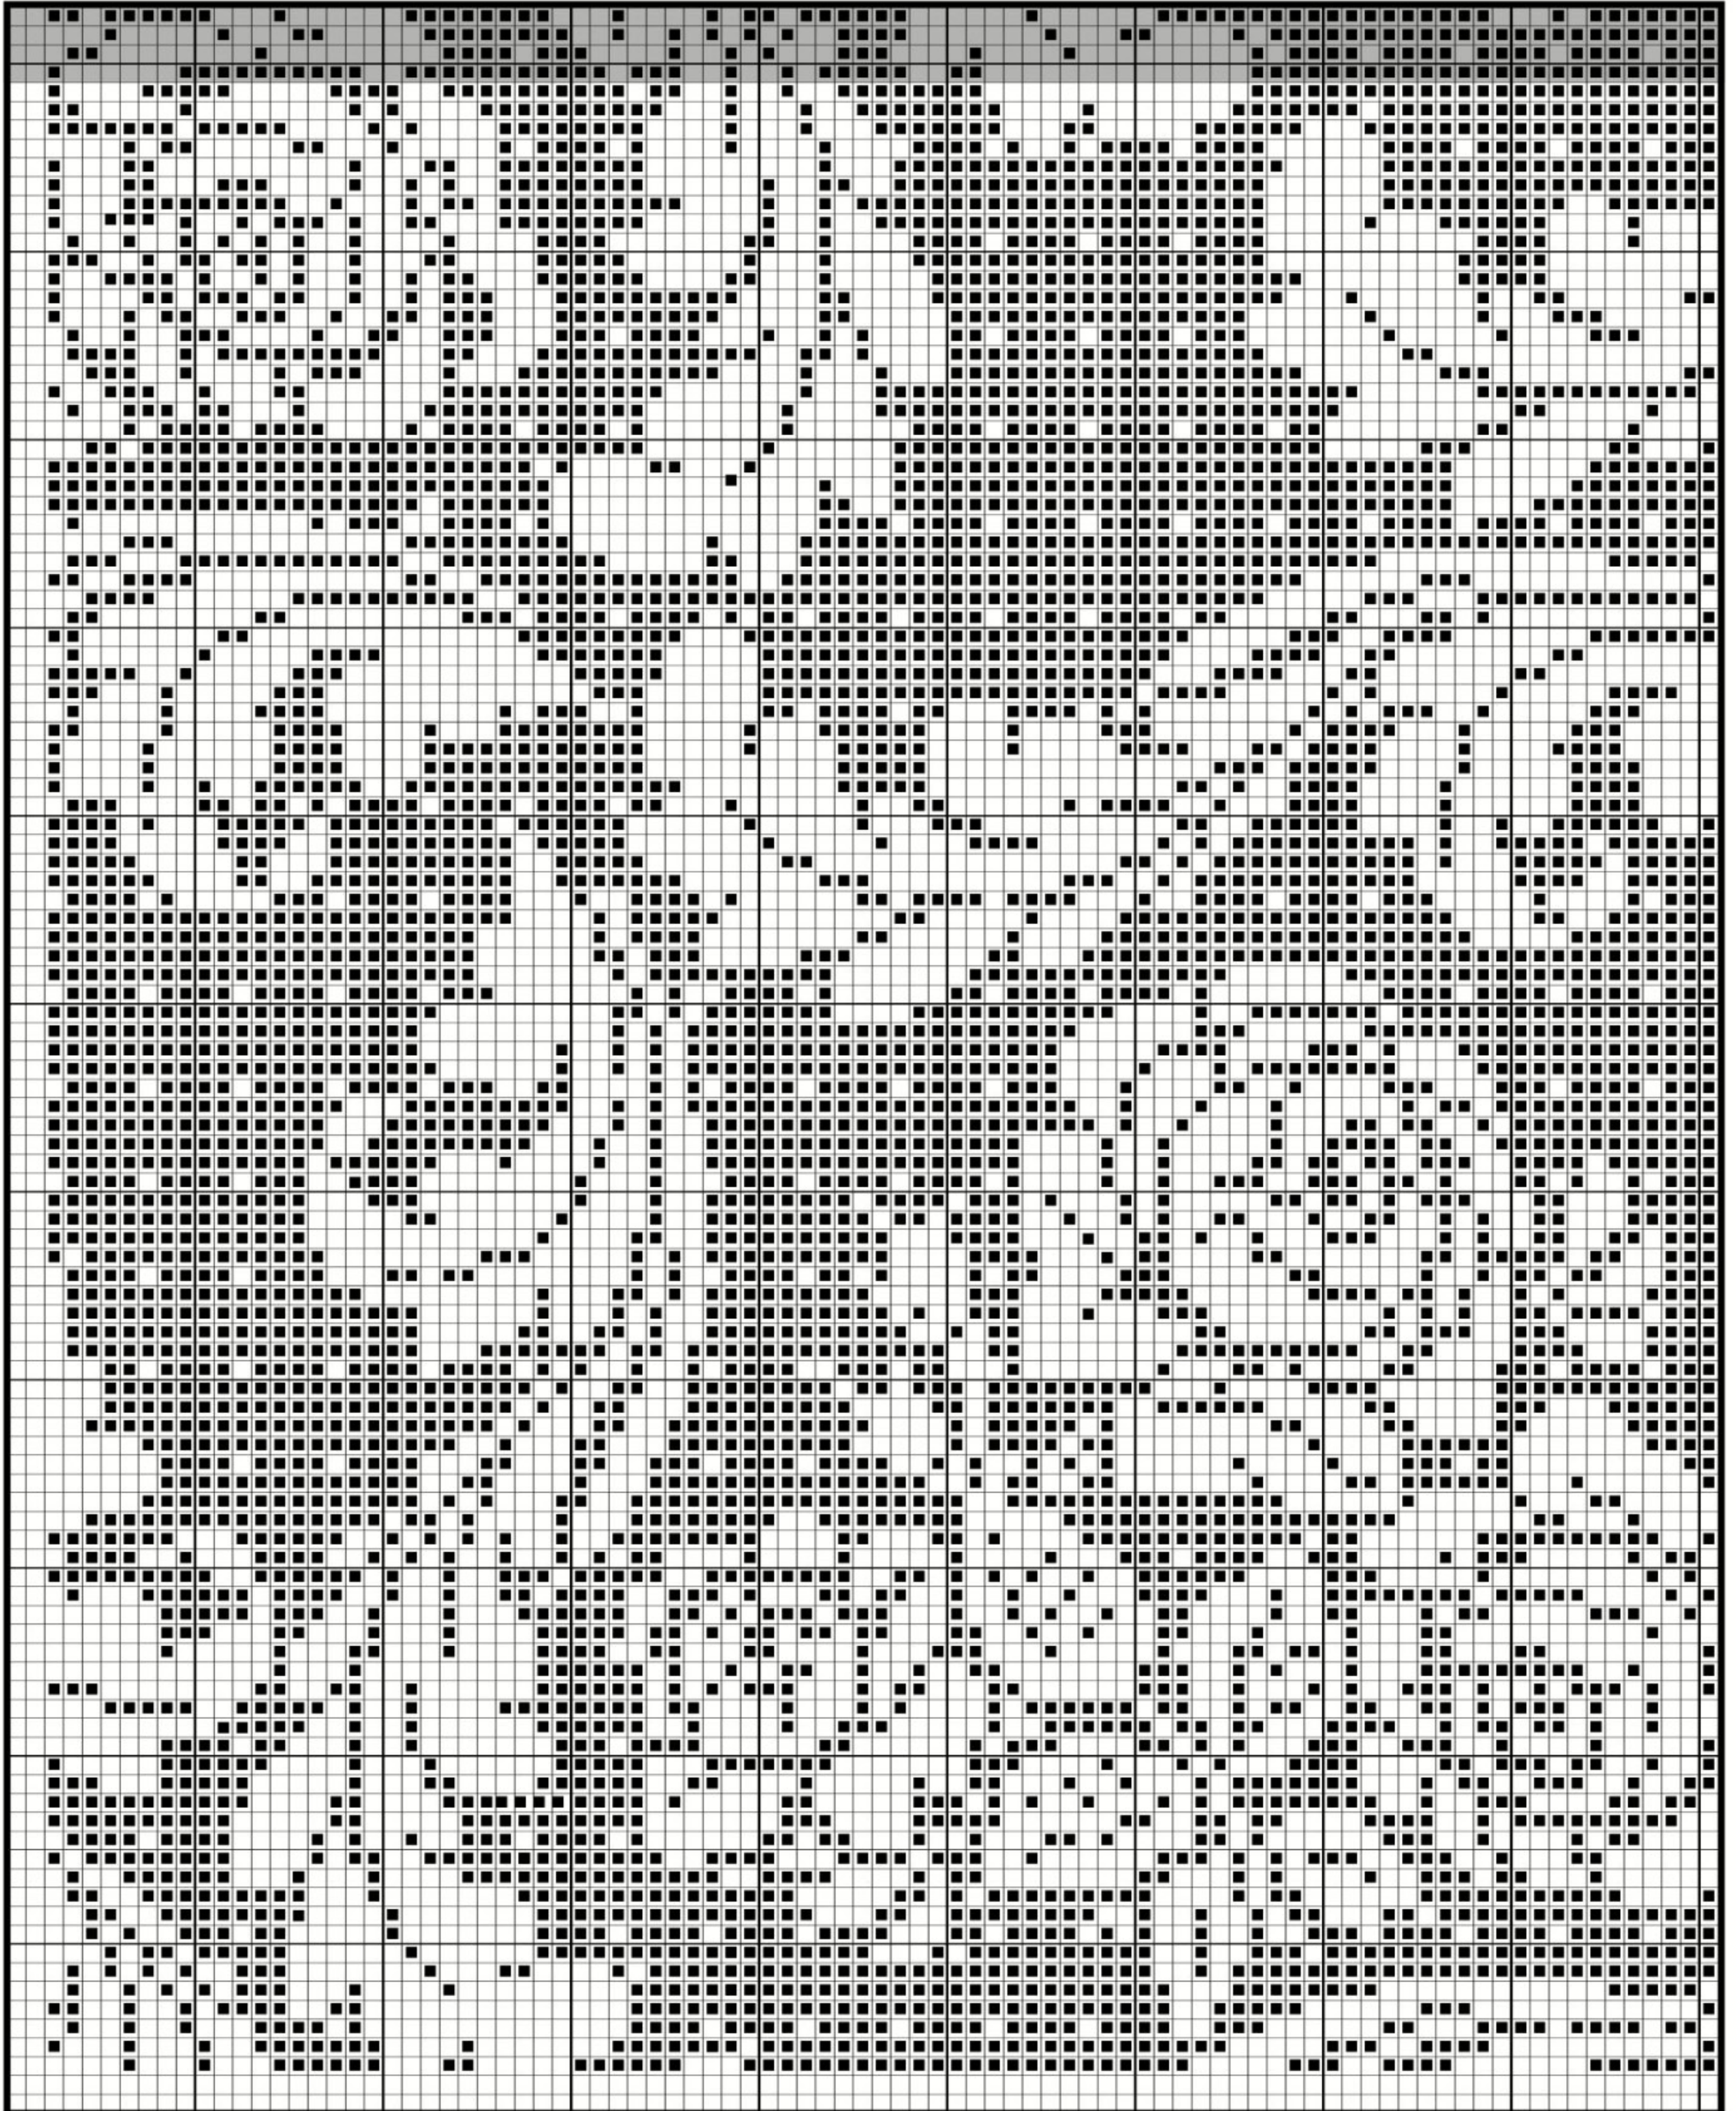

To make piping, cut two strips 1¾" x width of fabric on the bias. Join strips together at short ends using a ¼" seam allowance. Fold strip in half along length with wrong sides facing and matching raw edges; pin in place. Sew together using a ¼" seam allowance. Remove pins. Insert cording into tube. Using zipper-foot attachment on sewing machine, sew close to cording. Beginning at bottom center of pillow top, pin piping to right side of pillow top, matching raw edges. Hand-baste piping in place; sew by hand or use sewing machine with a zipper-foot.

To join ends of piping, open tail end of piping fabric and pull back to expose cording. Overlap long end of cording with beginning end of cording and cut so that ends butt together. Hand-sew ends of cording together. Trim fabric end as needed and turn under one edge of fabric, overlapping raw edge of the beginning end. Whipstitch closed.

From decorator fabric, cut a piece the same size as pillow top for backing. Place backing atop pillow top, right sides together and aligning raw edges. Using a sewing machine

Medina Originals:

Fiber-Arts Aficionado Blends Cross Stitch With Other Needlework Techniques

By Vickie LoPiccolo Jennett

From her home in California's high desert, designer Linda Medina cherishes every facet of bringing the fiber arts to life. Whether she's putting the finishing touches on an intricate ornament for the White House Christmas tree or participating in a nontraditional clothing design symposium, Linda relishes the opportunity to apply color, form and texture to everything from sweaters to tea cozies to headbands.

Cross-stitch design is an important part of Linda's repertoire and has its roots in early visits to her grandparents' home. "First of all, my mother and her mother were totally involved in needlework of one sort or another," she explains. "They sewed, embroidered and crocheted. When I was a little girl, you didn't run around and create chaos, particularly at my grandparents' house. I was supposed to sit on a little footstool next to my grandmother's chair when we visited. She had a stamped cross stitch and let me pick out the colors. If the back wasn't as tidy as the front, my grandmother advised, 'then you should jolly well pick it out and do it properly.' I was quite envious of my younger sister who was outside in the workshop with my grandfather. He would always sneak her a piece of gum or candy as a treat while I was inside and expected to sit and work like a lady."

These early lessons and sewing tutorials by her mother have actually served Linda well through the years. She started sewing at age 5, following in the footsteps of her seamstress mother. "She made all of our dresses. We had great fun going to the store before school started each fall. We picked out fabric and patterns, and no one else had dresses like us. One time, I nagged my mother enough to buy me a dress at a back-to-school sale in a department store. Eventually she gave in, only for me to go to school and see a girl I never really liked wearing the same dress. I never bugged her again!"

When Linda got older, she made her own dresses. "Other girls would baby-sit; I made clothes." Her fiber-arts skills won Linda a Bank of America award as well as a college scholarship in the arts. (She opted to turn down another scholarship in the sciences.) Her dad—a very practical engineer—was furious that Linda didn't initially pursue a more practical course of studies. A few years and one temp job too many later, Linda decided to take her father's advice and pursue a radiology major followed by a career in nuclear medicine that lasted through the mid 1990s. "Then I fell and was hurt very badly. Physically, I wasn't able to go back to nuclear medicine." This life-changing event, however, had a silver lining—it permitted Linda to turn her lifelong hobby of needlework into a profession.

"As horrible as it was, without that push, I probably wouldn't have started designing full-time." She had kept her hand in needlework design part-time, including teaching for national needlework guilds and publishing her successful knitting patterns.

"I am crazy about technique," Linda explains. "Because I have sewn so long, my finishing is as important to me as the design itself. I am totally grateful to my mom and my grandmother for helping me to understand the difference between handmade and homemade. Handmade can be elegant.”

Linda is so busy with fiber arts at Medina Originals that she admittedly has no time for managing a Web presence. “What I plan to do in January of 2015 is to start listing my patterns and, hopefully, some finished products on Craftsy (an online community of passionate artists and craftspersons).”

“I really want to spend my time designing and creating. I don’t want to take the joy out of the process by getting bogged down with logistics. I had to take a break from my knitting to create an ornament for the Just CrossStitch Christmas Ornaments issue.” Of all the patterns Linda has published over the years, she says her mother would be most proud to know Linda’s ornament appeared in that specific magazine. “My mom and I always waited for the ornament issue every year. She would be so excited!”

Typically Linda sketches out a design and then charts it by hand before transferring the pattern to software. “I don’t usually stitch a piece until the charting is complete. Sometimes then, I tweak the design as I’m stitching, usually on 28-count linen.” As for fiber and fabric choices, Linda loves hand-dyeing her materials. “I’ve been doing it for years and years. I’m always taking classes and learning new techniques.”

When it comes to design work, Linda considers herself quite organized, although her actual studio is usually in a state of “organized chaos.” She sees that “chaos” as a partner in the creativity process. “A lot of times, people involved in sewing or needlework put on blinders and say, ‘Oh, no, I don’t do that. I don’t know how.’ When you do this, you’re putting artificial boundaries on yourself.” She encourages stitchers to explore, to watch what other people are doing, and to learn new techniques. “I love mixing things up,” she explains, “adding little touches that make it special. I can’t express how important it is that the finishing be as good as the item that was stitched. It’s like the lining in a garment. How fabulous to have a well-made conservative jacket with a fabulous silk-print lining!”

The bottom line, Linda says, is that everyone needs to have fun with the needle arts. “Some people want it just like the picture in the magazine, and that’s fine. But I encourage my students to change it up and make it their own. It might be my design, but make it your own.”

Looking back, Linda has no regrets about choosing a career in science. “What I did helped a lot of people, and I had a chance to do some needlework and knitting along the way. I enjoyed what I did and like to think I made a difference in people’s lives. Things just happen for a reason. I love what I do now that I have returned full-time to the needle arts. Would I ever want to go back? No, thank you. I enjoy what I’m doing.”

Ruler
 Copy paper
 White tissue paper
 Medium needle-nose pliers
 (optional)
 Sewing machine (optional)

Press stitched pieces from reverse side, straightening as much as possible.

Bag—Trim stitched piece to 2" from stitching on all sides.

Fold one piece of copy paper in half lengthwise and crease to mark center. Open paper and lay purse frame on it 1" from top of page, centering clasp on fold line. Trace around outside edge of frame, skipping over the clasp. Mark positions at bottoms of hinges. Remove frame; pencil across opening where clasp was to complete drawn outline.

On paper pattern, mark a ¼" seam allowance outside the drawn outline. Measure down 7¾" from top of seam allowance and mark for bottom of bag (bottom seam allowance is included in this measurement). At this point, draw an 8" horizontal line for bag bottom.

Measure up 1¼" from end of bottom line and mark. Draw a straight line from the bottom line to this mark. Repeat at other end.

On right-hand side, mark ½" out to side from the hinge bottom on frame tracing. Lay a top corner of the frame on the top corner of the pattern (at the outside corner of the seam allowance) and angle the frame side out to meet the ½" mark. Mark along the frame side in this position. Without moving the frame, measure down a little more than ¼" from the bottom of the hinge and mark this point; you will begin sewing at this mark. Using a ruler, draw a line connecting this point to the top of the 1¼" line at the bottom. This is the side of the bag. Repeat for left-hand side. Use a dotted line to mark a ¼" seam allowance inside the drawn outline; this completes the bag pattern.

To create a template, trace a copy of the pattern including the seam allowances, on the tissue paper, transferring hinge marks. Also, copy the pattern without the seam allowances on tissue for interfacing and batting templates.

Cut two lining pieces from lining fabric and the Bag Front and Bag Back stitched pieces using template created above, centering stitched pieces. Cut two pieces of interfacing and fusible batting without the seam allowances; transfer hinge marks with a fabric marker. Fuse interfacing to back of lining fabric pieces following manufacturer's instructions. Fuse batting to back of stitched pieces, following manufacturer's instructions.

Place the two interfaced lining pieces with fabric sides together, matching edges; pin. Sew from one hinge mark down the side, across bottom, leaving a 3" opening in center, and then continue sewing up the other side to other hinge mark. Top above hinge marks will be left open. Press seams open.

To create the flat bottom, match the side seam and bottom seam of one corner, flattening them to form a triangle; pin. Measure in 1" from point of triangle and draw a straight line across. Sew along this line. Trim excess fabric to ¼" from sewn line. Repeat for other corner.

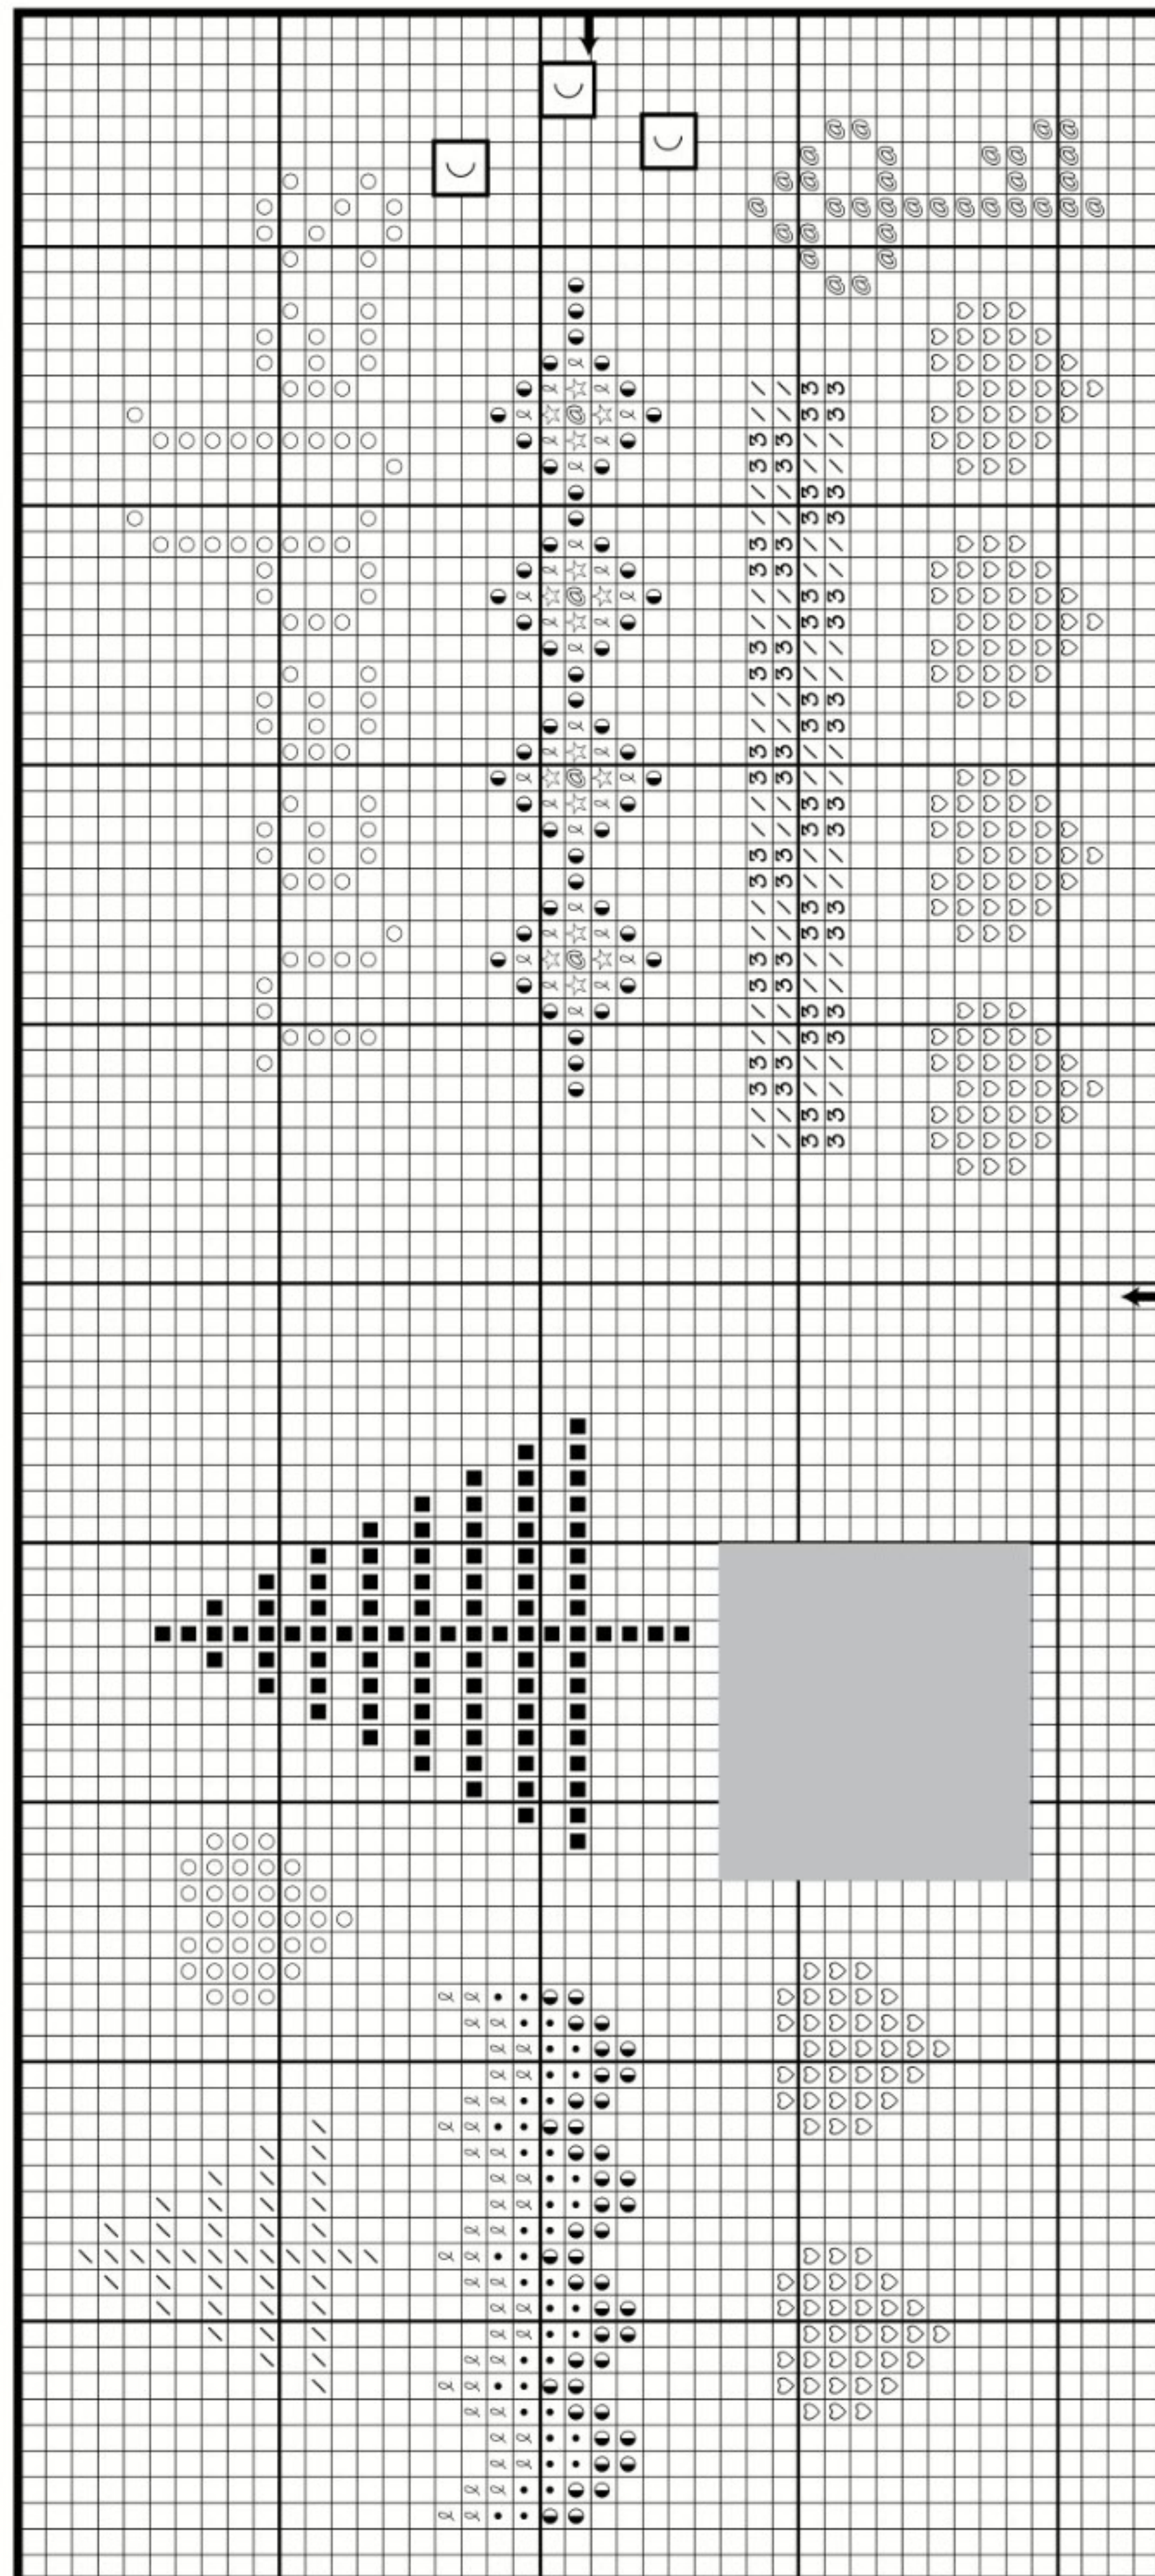

Place Bag Front and Bag Back pieces together with right sides facing. Sew from one hinge mark to the other as for lining, but do not leave opening at bottom. Press seams open. Create flat bottom same as for lining. Turn piece right side out.

Place the stitched Bag into the assembled lining with right sides facing. Match top edges of one stitched piece and one lining piece and the hinge marks; pin. This makes the flaps that will be sewn to the frame. Sew from one hinge mark (where stitching on the lining stopped) around to the other hinge mark (where stitching started on lining). Clip the curved edges.

Repeat for other side. Carefully pull stitched Bag through the opening in the lining bottom; using finger, curve top edges outward as much as possible. Press flap seams. Slip-stitch the opening in the lining closed. Push the lining back inside stitched Bag, pushing the squared-off bottom edges into each other.

Open the purse frame. Beginning at one hinge side, insert flap into the frame, using binder clips to secure everything in place. Thread large-eye needle with 30" length of six strand DMC 3858 floss and knot end. Starting at one side, secure floss. Bring the needle up through the first hole and down into the next. Use needle-nose pliers to pull needle up through the holes if necessary. Angle needle so that stitches don't show on the lining. Continue sewing around to last hole. Repeat journey back in opposite direction, filling in gaps. When beginning point is reached, trim floss leaving a 4" tail. Divide floss into two three-strand pieces and knot well. Cut ends and push under frame edge to conceal; secure with a drop of craft glue if desired.

Needlebook—Trim stitched piece to 1" from stitching on all sides.

To make template, trace around stitched piece on tissue paper, adding ½" seam allowance. Using template, cut out one piece from lining fabric.

Cut a 5" x 2¾" piece of lining fabric for pocket. Cut out four 3½" x 3⅜" pieces of comic board, marking the top edge with a pencil. Cut two 3½" x 3⅜" pieces of fusible interfacing, marking top edge with a fabric marker. Cut two 3½" x 3⅜" pieces of fusible batting, marking top edge with a fabric marker.

Fuse one piece of interfacing to the wrong side of lining following the manufacturer's instructions. Using glue stick, glue one piece of fusible batting to two of the pieces of comic board, matching the top edges. Fold in the seam allowances along the top and bottom edges of the lining and press. Fold in the side seam allowances and press. Trim the top and bottom corners to reduce bulk. Repeat with stitched piece.

Fold the pocket piece in half lengthwise with right sides together; pin. Sew together using a ¼" seam allowance from the folded edge down, leaving a 1¼" opening in the bottom seam, and then continue sewing up the other side to the fold. Clip corners and turn in opening seam allowance; slip-stitch closed. Press.

Position pocket on the left-hand side of lining on the right side of the fabric. Hand-sew in place.

Measure about 2" along one of the hair elastics, fold in half and pin. You can take a few stitches by hand through the two pieces to hold them together. Place at the mark on the stitched piece's seam allowance with loop pointing to the left. Sew in place to secure. Cut off excess elastic even with the seam allowance.

Using glue stick, glue a piece of comic board to the back of the interfacing on lining, matching the tops. Note: There is an intentional space left in the center between the comic boards on both the lining and the stitched piece. This reduces the bulk when you sew in the pages so that the Needlebook closes nicely.

Using glue stick, put a dab of glue at each corner. Fold in the trimmed corners and secure. Run a line of glue stick along the top edge of the comic boards. Fold in the seam allowance; press down to adhere. Repeat with bottom edge and then the sides. Use a needle and thread to slip-stitch the mitered corner seams. Place one comic board with the batting side down on the back of the stitched piece, fitting just inside seam allowances. Secure the top and bottom corners of the stitched piece to the comic board with glue stick. Repeat with the other comic board.

Fold in and glue the seam allowances using lining method above. Slip-stitch the mitered corner seams. With wrong sides together, line up the top edges and corners of the lining and stitched pieces; use binder clips to hold in place if necessary. Line up the lower edges and corners and secure with clips.

Using a double strand of matching sewing thread, beginning about ½" inch above the elastic loop, slip-stitch the two pieces together. Stop sewing about ½" below the elastic loop.

Cut three 3" x 6½" pieces from felt. Stack neatly and center on the lining; sew from top of felt to the bottom. Place a small dot of craft glue in the opening left above the elastic. Insert tail of the trim about ¼" into the opening, keeping it as close to the side of the elastic as possible. Note: Wrap a piece of cellophane tape around the trim before cutting. After cutting, leave tape on both ends to keep them from unraveling.

Carefully hand-stitch trim to the outer edge of the Needlebook. When beginning point is almost reached, cut the trim about ¼" longer than necessary. Put another dot of glue in the opening below the elastic. Push the end of trim into the opening, keeping it as close to the bottom of the elastic as possible, and finish sewing trim. Sew button to the back of the Needlebook. Store needles on felt pages, and place a threader in pocket, if desired.

Scissors Case—Trim stitched Front piece to 1" from stitching on top and sides and 1½" on bottom. Cut Back piece to same size as Front, centering stitching.

To make template, trace around Front stitched piece on tissue paper, adding ½" seam allowance. Using template, cut out two lining pieces.

Make a template without seam allowances. Using this template, cut four pieces of comic board and four pieces of fusible batting. Coat two sides of a comic board piece with the glue stick, and top with a matching batting piece. Press down evenly and let glue set. Repeat with the other three comic boards.

Attach a 2" loop of elastic hair band at the center top on the right-hand side of the Front piece as instructed for Needlebook.

With a needle and double strand of coordinating sewing thread, beginning at the bottom, work a row of running stitches $\frac{1}{4}$ " in from cut edges of one of the lining pieces. On the wrong side of the lining piece, center one comic board with the batting side down. Carefully pull running stitch. Adjust the gathers evenly and secure thread. Lace back and forth to hold the lining fabric snug; tie off thread. Press carefully from the back. Repeat with remaining lining piece, and Front and Back pieces.

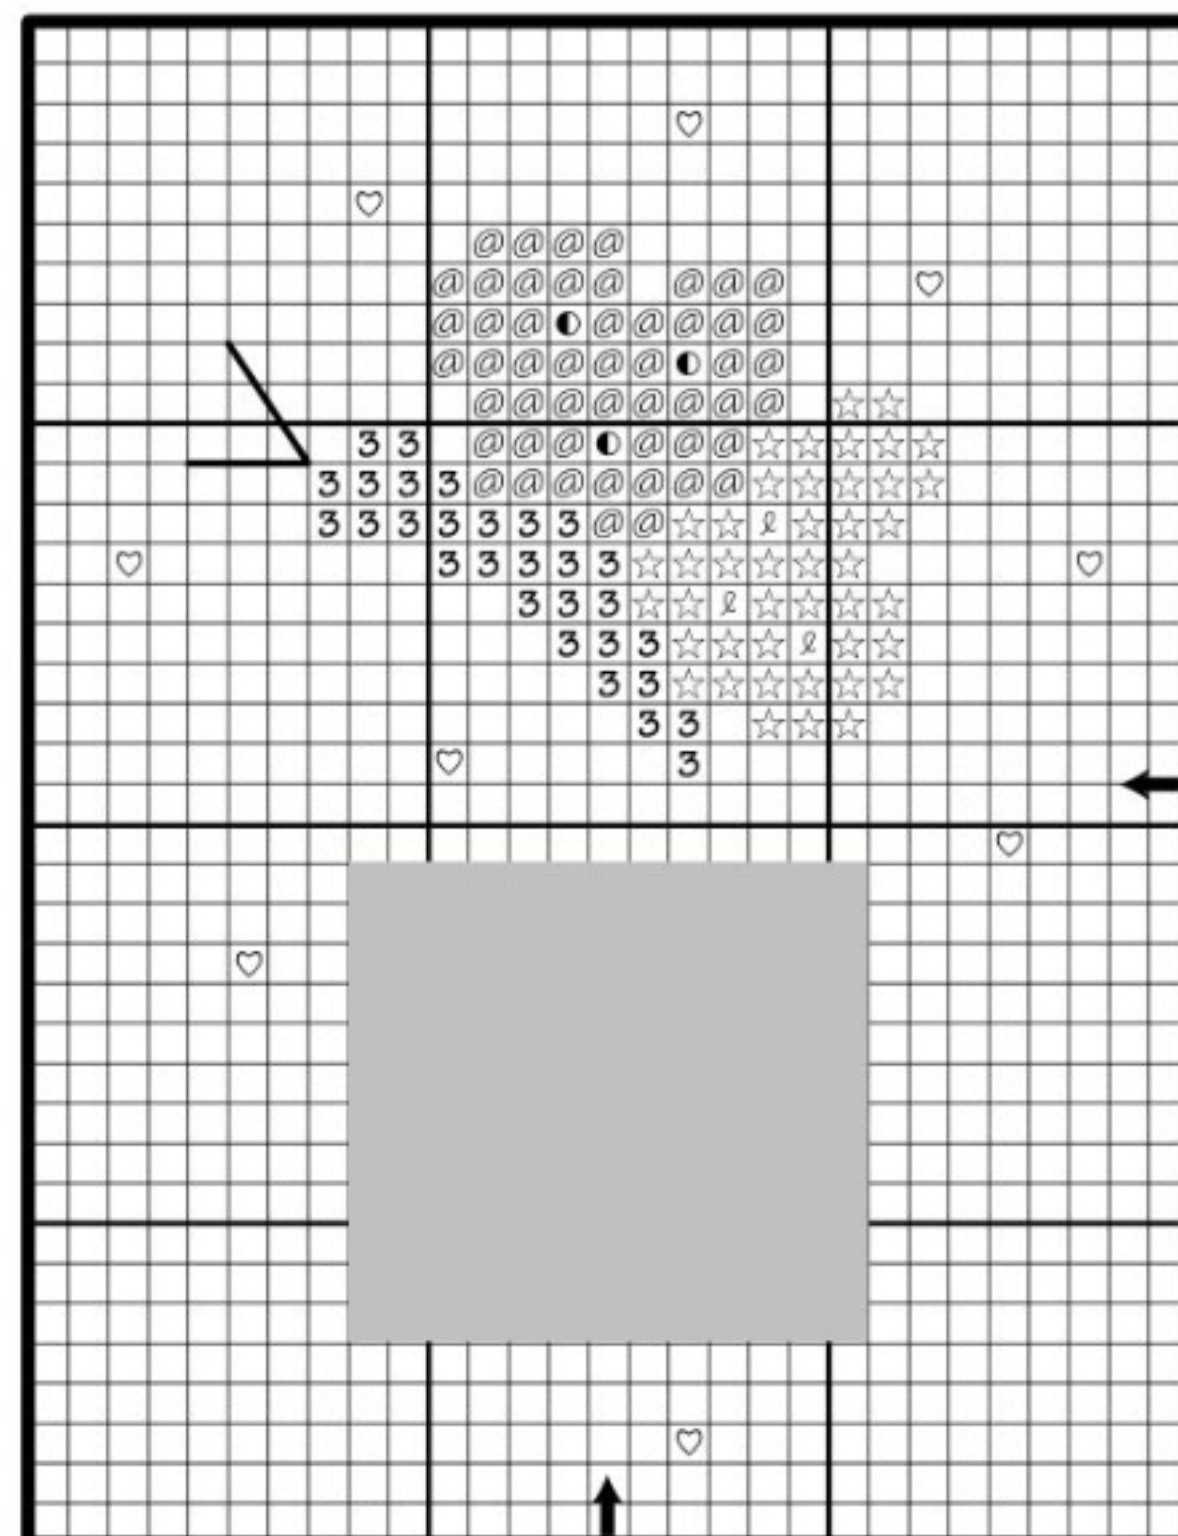

Mark opening of the top of the Scissors Case on the stitched Back piece with pins. With wrong sides together, match a lining piece to the stitched Back. Secure with binder clips. With doubled sewing thread, slip-stitch two pieces together, beginning $\frac{1}{4}$ " above first pin. Stitch around the top, stopping $\frac{1}{4}$ " above second pin. Beginning $\frac{1}{4}$ " below that pin, slip-stitch down side, around bottom and up other side, stopping $\frac{1}{4}$ " below the first pin. Secure thread.

Place a small dot of craft glue in the first opening. Push the end of a piece of trim into the opening, centered at the pin. Place a small dot of the craft glue into the second opening, cut the trim about $\frac{1}{4}$ " longer than necessary. Push end into opening and finish sewing.

Match the lining piece and the stitched Front piece with wrong sides together. Secure with binder clips. With doubled thread, slip-stitch the two pieces together $\frac{1}{4}$ " from the elastic loop. Stitch around, stopping $\frac{1}{4}$ " from the elastic loop. Secure thread.

Align the Front and Back pieces, with the linings together. Secure with binder clips around the bottom of the Scissors Case from one pine to another. Slip-stitch pieces together between the pins, leaving the top open. Remove the pins. Place a small dot of craft glue in the openings on each side of the elastic loop. Push the end of a piece of trim into the first opening as close to the loop as possible. Slip-stitch the trim in place, overlapping the trim a bit where the Back trim ends.

Scissor Sheath Front

Continue sewing the trim around the Scissors Case, again overlapping the trim a bit when beginning point is reached. Sew trim up the top edge. When you are almost to the second opening, cut the trim about $\frac{1}{4}$ " longer than necessary. Push end into the opening and finish sewing. Secure thread. Sew a button to the back of the Scissors Case for closure.

PROP-IT® "Hands-Free" Page Magnifier

$29.99

Many of our readers are familiar with the Prop-It Needlework Chart Holder and the Prop-It Bar Magnifier. Now stitchers can go a step further and magnify their entire chart with the aide of the Page Magnifier. Prop-It chart holder and page magnifier sit parallel to one another at an ideal 45-degree angle. Use your magnetic chart holder to position the desired chart, place the page magnifier in front of your secured page, and start stitching. Never worry about having to copy and enlarge your charts again. Included with each kit are a plastic page magnifier, black metal stand and hardware, and a clear plastic storage case. For more information and to order your Prop-It Page Magnifier, visit AnniesCraftStore.com.

Sulky's Permanent Iron-On Transfer Pen

$14.98/4 pk.; $29.98/8 pk.

Use this permanent iron-on transfer pen for nonbleeding transfers from plain paper to fabric for: punch-needle embroidery, appliqué, needlework, finishing and much, much more! After tracing the desired image, the pattern need only be applied via a clean, hot iron to the chosen surface. A single stencil can be used multiple times before being discarded. The transfers can be applied to fabric, paper, wood and just about any surface! Choose from an array of colors—black, yellow, green, red, blue, orange, brown and purple. Each pen can be purchased in a four-pack (black, red, blue and brown) or eight-pack featuring one of each color available. For more information or to purchase your set, visit AnniesCraftStore.com.

My Big Toe Designs

Price varies

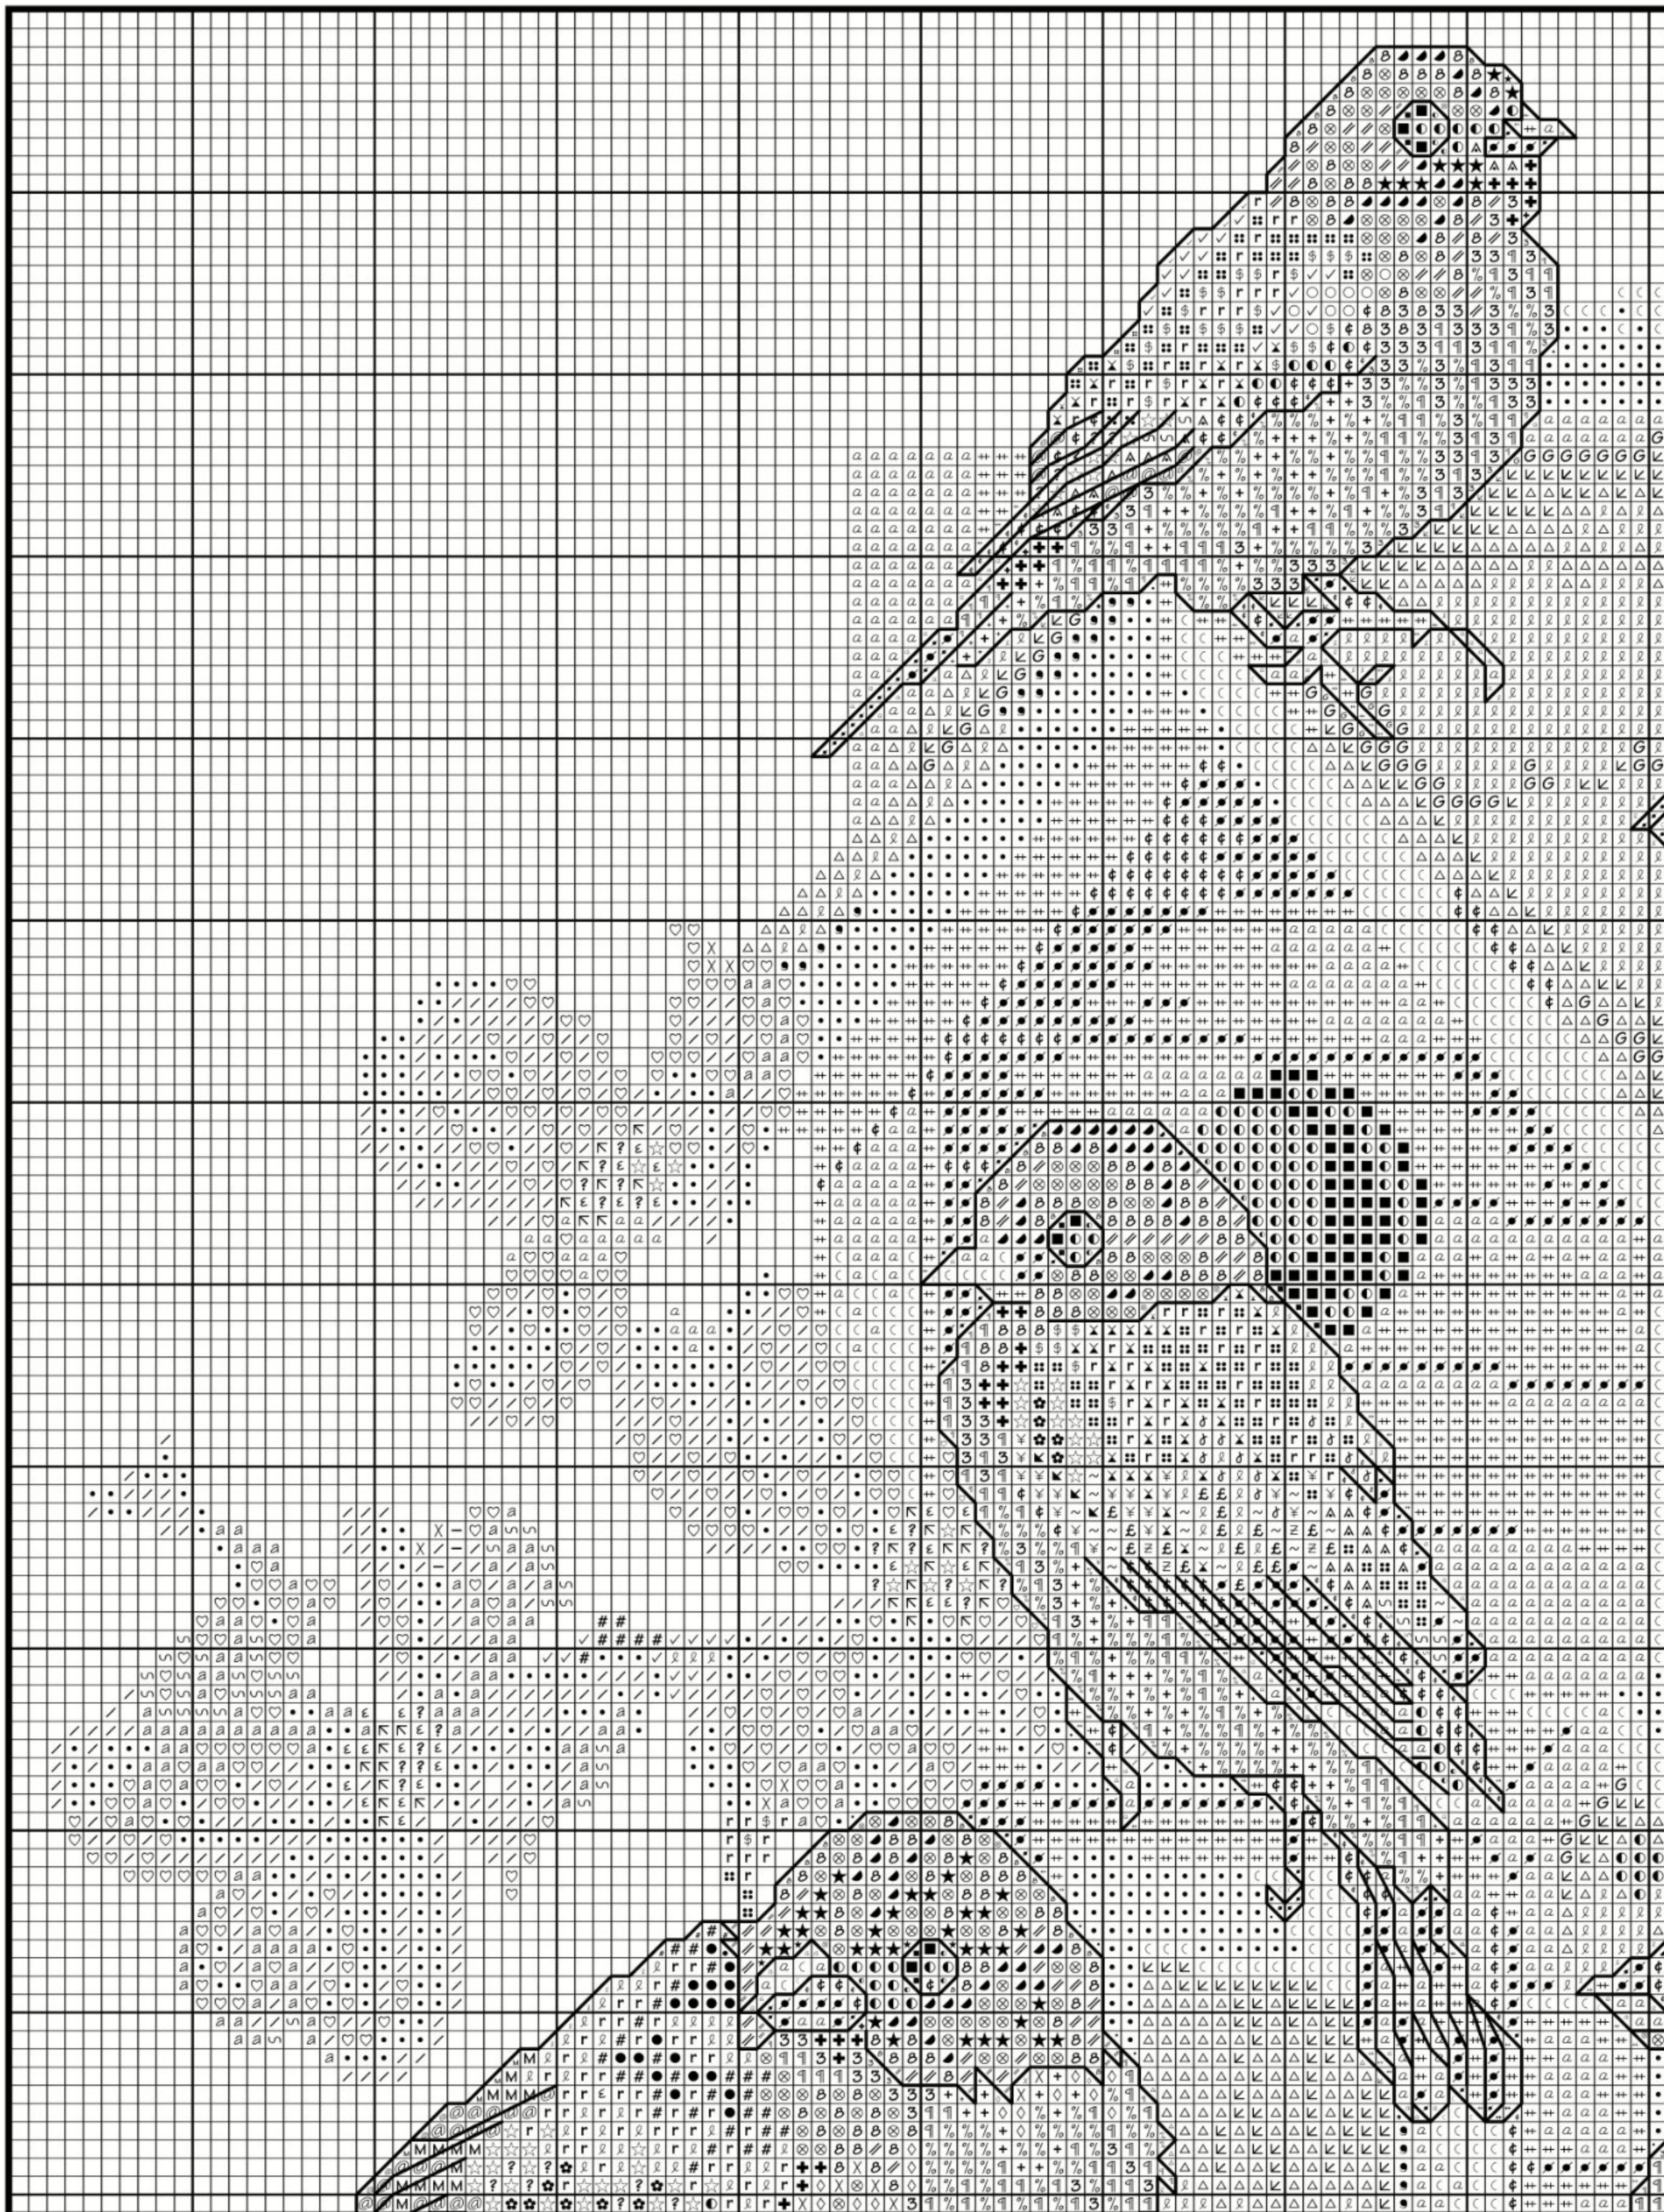

You've probably seen a design or two from Deborah Booth of My Big Toe designs in the pages of Just CrossStitch. When she's not hard at work on her next inspirational or whimsical design, she finds time to craft unique needlework accessories that would add a bit of flair to any stitcher's basket. From mini-fobs to thread pickers, marking pins to chatelaines, and handy threaders to scissor huggers, Deborah can coordinate them all in your favorite colors and charms. Press stitched pieces from reverse side, straightening as much as possible. Trim Cover stitched piece to ½" from stitching on all sides.
Trim Pocket and Photo Tag to two threads from stitching on all sides.

Using trimmed Cover stitched piece as template, cut a piece of coordinating fabric to the same size.
Set stitched piece aside.

Cut wool felt into four triangle corners. Position upper right corner piece of wool felt on right-hand side of fabric ⅝" from top corner of fabric. Stitch in place using one strand of peacock and a blanket stitch, taking care not to attach diagonal blanket stitch to fabric beneath. Repeat for remaining wool felt corner pieces, positioning them to fit a 2½" x 2½" photo.

Position Photo Tag on fabric below wool felt corners and attach using one strand 131 and working through nun's stitch. Refer to photo for placement.

Thread one end of twistedcording through far left eyelet on Pocket; knot end on back to secure.
Thread cording through eyelets across top of Pocket, leaving a 1" loop protruding middle eyelet; knot other end of cording behind far right eyelet to secure.

Position Pocket on left-hand side of fabric approximately 1¼" from left edge and 1" from bottom edge. Stitch in place using one strand 131 and working through buttonhole stitch.
Take care to leave pocket opening loose to allow for small bottle to be inserted. Position fish button above Pocket, making sure loop from eyelet will reach to secure; attach in place using two strands of coordinating floss.

Finger-press ½" seam allowance along all edges on stitched piece to back. Repeat for fabric lining piece. Place stitched piece and fabric lining piece together with wrong sides facing and aligning edges and corners. Cut ribbon into four 6" lengths; position two pieces along left-hand side of needlebook, referring to photo for placement; pin in place. Repeat for remaining two pieces of ribbon and right-hand side of needlebook. Whipstitch together using one strand of peacock and catching ribbons in stitches to secure.

Using two strands of coordinating sewing thread, attach beads along top and bottom edge of needlebook.
Attach two small wooden seed beads, one crystal bead, four wooden seed beads, one crystal bead and so forth from left-hand side to right-hand side, taking care to leave center open for folding. Secure thread.

Fold needlebook in half along center and finger-press along seam.
Insert photo into wool corners.
Fill bottle with wedding keepsakes (model uses sand from a beach wedding) and insert bottle into Pocket. Tie ribbons to close. 🎀

.....Twisted-Cording Instructions.....

Materials

- Embroidery floss, pearl cotton or other fiber to complement stitchery. Note: To determine amount needed, see step 1. Refer to ornament color code for specific color and fiber used.
- Mini cording drill

Cording can be made by one person; however, the procedure can be awkward at times, especially when dealing with long lengths of floss—an extra set of hands is always helpful.

1. To determine the amount of floss needed, multiply by three the desired length of the cording, making sure to include any length needed for hangers when finishing ornaments. Place all lengths of floss together, and tie a knot in each end.

2. Slip one knotted end of floss onto hook of cording drill. Slip other knotted end over a small knob. Pull drill so that floss is taut. Operate drill in a forward direction. Floss will begin to twist.

Continue twisting until floss is very tightly twisted and is about to twist up on itself.

3. Carefully remove knotted end from drill hook, being extremely careful not to let go of end and keeping twisted floss taut. Place hook of cording drill in center of length of twisted floss, and place knotted end on knob, still keeping floss taut. Operate drill in a reverse direction until desired twist for cording is achieved. Remove drill. Remove ends from knob, and secure with another knot.

Finishing Materials & Instructions

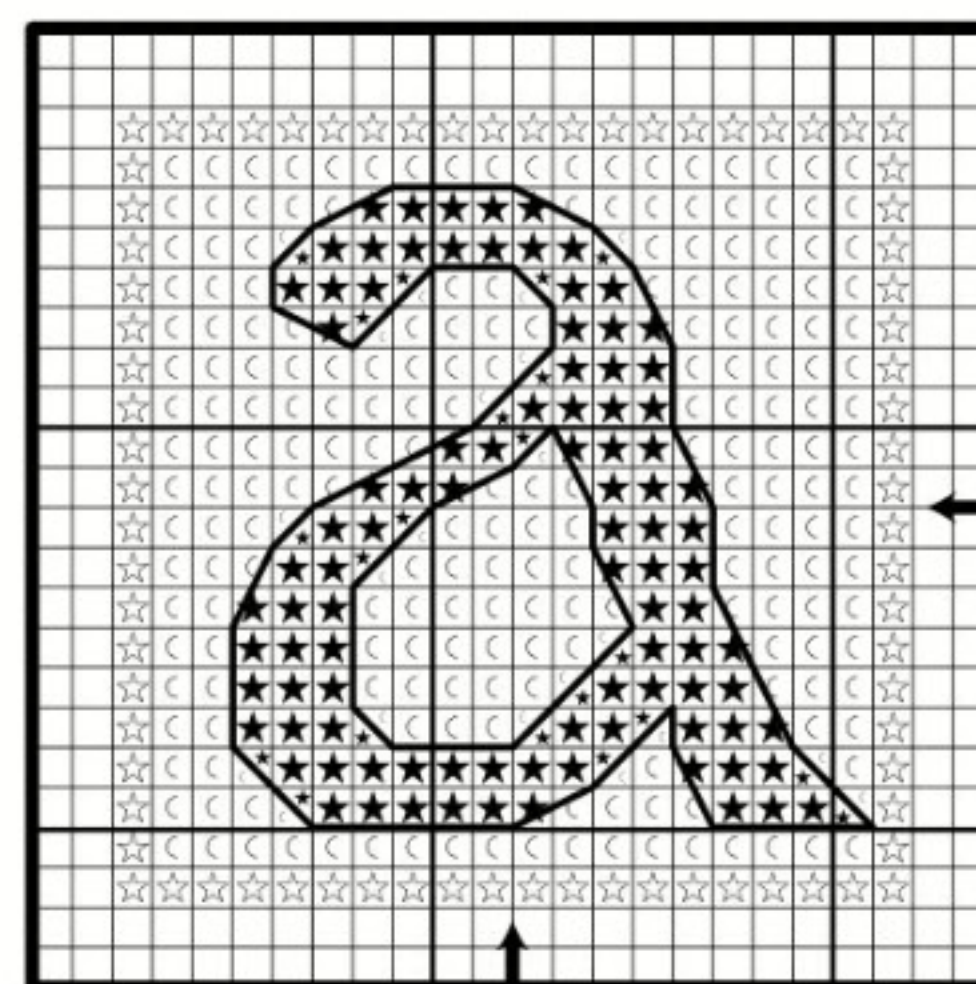

- One piece 12" x 12" coordinating scrapbook paper or cardstock
- Glue stick
- 26 self-adhesive magnets

Press stitched pieces from reverse side, straightening as much as possible. Trim stitched pieces to one square from stitching on all sides.

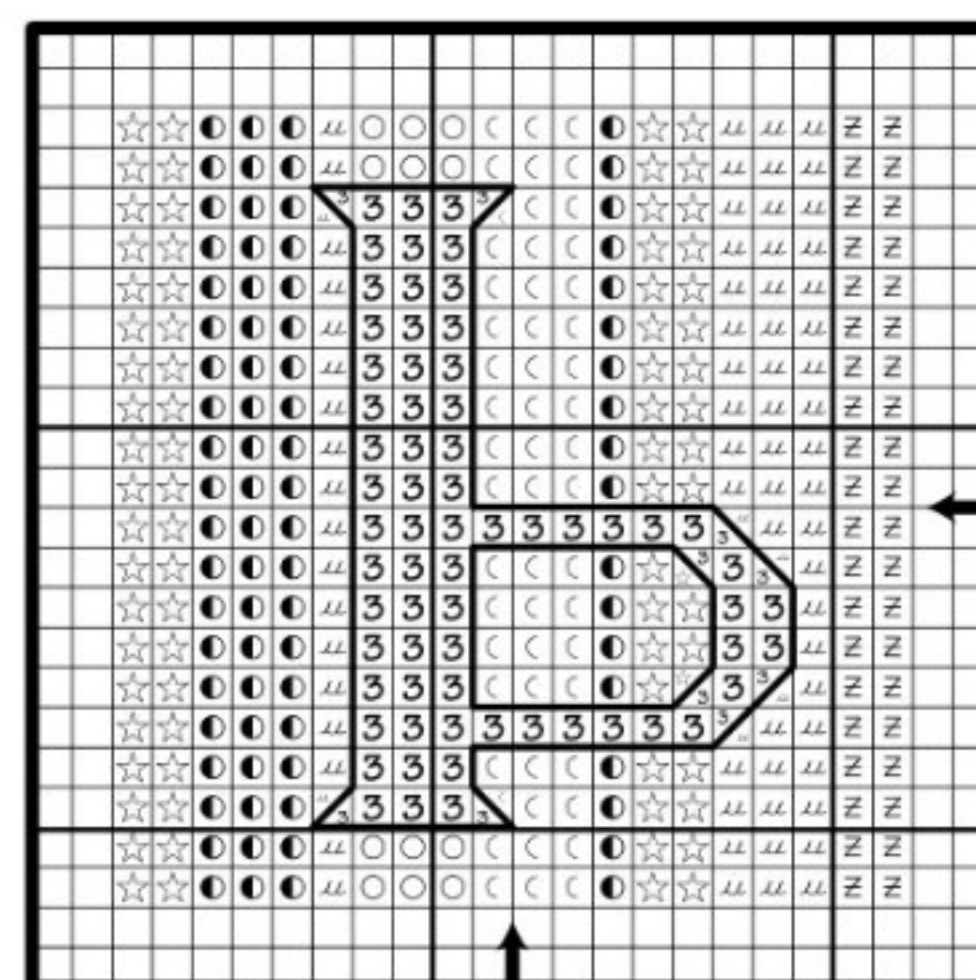

Glue one stitched square to reverse side of patterned paper in corner; trim paper even with edges. Repeat with remaining letters. Adhere magnets to paper side of stitched squares. ☺

Put a stitchy spin on the traditional letter magnets with this charming set from Marie Barber. Stitched on Aida, these are quick to finish and even quicker to display.

Press stitched piece from reverse side, straightening as much as possible. Trim stitched piece to 1" from stitching on all sides.

Cut two 3" x 7" pieces of blue fabric. Place one piece of blue fabric and stitched design together with right sides together, aligning one long edge of blue fabric with right-hand edge of trimmed stitched piece. Sew together using a ½" seam allowance. Open out flat and press seam open. Repeat for left-hand side and remaining strip of fabric.

Cut two 3" x 15" pieces of blue fabric. Place one piece of blue fabric and stitched design together with right sides together, aligning one long edge of blue fabric with top of trimmed stitched piece. Sew together using a ½" seam allowance. Open out flat and press seam open. Repeat for bottom and remaining strip of fabric.

From yellow wool, cut four bee bodies to desired size, referring to photo for shape. From white wool, cut eight wings to desired size, referring to photo for shape. Tack bodies and wings to pillow top, referring to photo for placement. Work long stitch for stripes on body and antennae using two strands 3910. Work bee trails using one strand of snowball.

From blue fabric, cut a piece the same size as pillow top for backing. Place backing atop pillow top with right sides together and aligning raw edges. Sew together using a ½" seam allowance and leaving an 5" opening at bottom edge for turning. Clip corners to reduce bulk.

Turn pillow right side out and press seams. Stuff pillow with fiberfill. Using a hand-sewing needle and coordinating thread, blind-stitch 5" opening closed. 🧵
